Daily Reading Log

Dear Parents,

The more you read the better reader you become! This is so true! The Daily Reading Log is used to keep track of what, how often, and how long your child reads at home. Please help monitor your child's home reading activities by signing the Daily Reading Log. Students are encouraged to select reading material from the genre of their choice and read at least 30 minutes a day at home (this includes weekends). Students are encouraged to select books within their reading level. The Daily Reading Log sheet will be checked each day and is to be handed in at the end of each month.

Name: _____ #:_____ Month: _____

Date	Book Title	Genre*	Minutes Read	Student Initials	Parent Initials	AR Test Date	AR %

*Fiction Codes: RF (Realistic Fiction), HF (Historical Fiction), FT (Folk Tales, Fables), F (Fantasy), SF (Science Fiction), M (Mystery)
Nonfiction Codes: IT (Informational Texts), B (Biography), AB (Autobiography)
Poetry (P)
Please write down the % you received for taking an AR test. Be sure to chart your points progress in your Data Binder. Remember, not all books are AR books. If it is not an AR book, please note in the last box.

Developed by Jessica Cobb (cobbj@lcsc.k12.in.us). For classroom use only!